GOVERNOR SHARKEY AND THE MISSISSIPPI INJUNCTION—THE ALTERNATIVE IN CASE THE BILL IS NOT ENTERTAINED—ANOTHER SHOW OF RESISTANCE.

WASHINGTON, April 9, 1867.

Governor Sharkey does not feel much encouraged by the present prospects of his injunction bill before the Supreme Court.—He is convinced there is an intention on the part of the Court to evade the responsibility of deciding the case on its merits, and that, if possible, it will be deferred, even if entertained, until a decision would avail nothing—until all the "mischief" it is intended to arrest has been consummated in the complete overthrow of the Southern States and the "destruction" therewith of republican government in this country, as contemplated and prescribed by the federal constitution. But he declares, in the most emphatic manner, that the Court shall decide the question involved in the bill in some form, if he lives, whether it be agreeable to the judges or otherwise; that he will persevere in his purpose to that end while he lives, and if he should die before his task is finished, he will turn in his grave to strengthen the hands of those who continue the struggle. Liberty and law, he says, must not be stricken down in this country without some one to protest, or without an effort to preserve them. If he were not known and had not been known, at home, here and everywhere, as an unconditional Union man, from the very outset of the troubles between the two sections of the country, he would not have undertaken the championship of this measure of redress; but being such, and always having been such, there can be no objection to him personally in connection with the bill.

Now comes the final resort in case defeat is suffered in the present proceeding, or in case it shall be so impeded as to render it useless because too late; and it must be acknowledged that the alternative is or will be sufficiently startling and adequately potent to procure a decision on the all important questions raised by the bill now presented. It is nothing less than the indictment and consequent arrest, or attempted arrest, of Gen. Ord, the commandant of the district embracing Mississippi, for treason against the State. Such a proceeding, it is thought, will result in compelling a final determination of the issues between the parties; and it certainly would appear so, for in such an event there must be judicial interference and adjustment, or the exercise of military despotism, in fact and in deed—the very charge that is made against the act it is sought to set aside. Military despotism is not a necessity, except in case of resistance, but when resistance comes, such a despotism will be found existing, perfect in its powers.

Governor Sharkey regrets the supineness exhibited by many of the Southern States and leaders, asserting that in case such weakness becomes general the South is lost, and her citizens must forever surrender their manhood and self-respect. If there is aught of influence in him to prevent it, Mississippi shall not thus fold her arms and submit to be manacled and led captive into the outer darkness of such a political Egypt.

As to the merits of the question sought to be submitted to the Court, Governor Sharkey entertains no doubt. The Constitution, he declares, has left nothing for conjecture or mistake on the point involved. There can be but one result when entertained by the Court. If he can get a hearing, if the Court will but consent to exercise jurisdiction, he has no fears, no misgiving. The truth is immutable, and the provisions of the Constitution are unmistakable. Hence there is no room for doubt, having all confidence in the Court, when once before it.

It is proper to add, as was stated in this correspondence of Saturday last, that Gov. Sharkey specifically denies that the President had anything whatever to do with the inception, progress or consummation of the bill. He says that he incidentally spoke of the late reconstruction measures to the President, when calling upon him, and that he at the same time told Mr. Johnson that he should "sue" him. Nothing further was interchanged on the subject. The idea that the President is concerned in the matter had its source in the fact that Gov. Sharkey has been so long here in advance of his application. But that is explained when it is stated that the bill was in readiness when the court adjourned for its recess, and that the application was deferred until after the adjournment of Congress, for the greater safety against interference by that body.—The Governor remarks, "I did not intend to let Congress get a bit at me."

ADVICE.—In these times public men, and some of the newspapers, are volunteering a good deal of advice. But here is a small instalment, the scintillations of the Griffin Star:

1st. All people who have not yet died a natural death, are advised not to get scared to death at this late stage of the game.

2d. Those who were lucky enough to keep their carcasses out of range of Yankee leaden bullets during the war, need not get alarmed at paper ones now.

3d. If the Yankees do confiscate the Southern lands, they cannot move the lands out of the country.

4th. If any body has done anything extra mean that he can't get forgiveness for, and fears that the local laws of the country will get hold of him, let him make his peace with the Radicals at once and he will be protected in his rascality.

5th. Let him who has always acted honestly, and endeavored to do his duty to his fellow-man, go about his business fearlessly, whatever that business may be.

6th. Good wives, who desire to retain the affections of their husbands, should always meet them with a smile, and try to have their cakes and coffee hot when they come home at night, tired and fretted with the day's troubles and vexations.

7th. Husbands should hold themselves in readiness to "mind the baby" on all reasonable occasions—and happy is he that has a baby to mind.

8th. (on the pious order)—The Lord sendeth rain upon the evil and the good and causeth the sun to shine upon the just and unjust—ergo, the industrious man shall reap his reward.

These comprise all the Law and the Prophets applicable to the times.

The remarkable order maintained in Baltimore during the elections on Friday, is attributable simply to the fact that Radical rule is at an end in that city.

VALUABLE LANDS AND MILLS FOR SALE.

NOT being able to attend to my Mills and Farms on Little River, I now offer them for sale. They are located 3 miles above Lowell Cotton Factory and 5 miles from the N. C. R. Road in Johnston County. The said tract contains about well timbered land, containing enough open land for a 3 or 4 horse Farm, with a comfortable dwelling and all necessary out houses requisite to a farm.

The soil is well adapted to the growth of Cotton and Corn, with ample facility for improvement.

Also, connected with said farm a GRIST MILL, with two pair of stones, and a SAW MILL, all in running order, with water power enough to drive a Cotton Factory!

Also, one other tract, lying on Buffalo Swamp, containing about 500 acres cleared land, enough for a 5 or 6 horse Farm, with low grounds drained by a twenty feet canal with all other ditches necessary. Will make, if well cultivated, 400 or 500 barrells of corn. The upland is well adapted to the growth of Cotton and Corn, with every facility for improvement.

FERTILIZERS.

PERUVIAN GUANO SUBSTITUTE!

BAUGH'S

RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

Manufactured under the formula originated in 1854 and patented by

BAUGH & SONS,

SOLE PROPRIETORS, AT THE

Delaware River Chemical Works,

PHILADELPHIA, U. S. A.

This old established MANURE is manufactured from Bones that have not been burned or steamed and it contains all their original organic matter. It is active in its operation, and is a fertiliser of great durability. It does not exhaust the soil like Peruvian Guano, but on the contrary permanently improves it.

Previous to 1861 it was introduced into the Southern States to considerable extent, and again in 1865, where it has been used with remarkable success upon Cotton, Corn, Tobacco, and all Crops.

A trial will convince any planter of its merits. Pamphlets containing well-know Southern evidence furnished upon application to New York or Philadelphia offices.

☞ Sold by Dealers in all the principal cities and towns throughout the United States and British Provinces.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO,

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophies, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person, she reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologian on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. Information of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

REGISTRATION.

In a few weeks, the people of this State will be called upon to register their names as voters under the Reconstruction Act.—The opinion is universal, among all persons who ponder well the political situation, that it is the imperious duty and the interest of every man, entitled to vote, to register his name as a voter. The Congress evidently regards this as a boon, not only to the colored man, but also to those whites whom it does not put under the ban. Whatever may be the ultimate results, the advantages or disadvantages to the people, of the exercise of the franchise, it is, nevertheless, of the highest importance under the present regime that we should not make ourselves amenable to the charge of contumacy, or place ourselves in a position in which we cannot extricate ourselves from a dilemma in which bad men among ourselves may seek to involve us. Let every voter, therefore, be sure to register.

More than this. Business, distance from the avenues of news, or sheer indifference to passing political events, have kept thousands, to this moment, ignorant of their duty. Every well informed citizen should, therefore, exert himself to communicate, in some effective way, the necessary information to the masses.

MR. HOLDEN AND THE COLORED PEOPLE.

The disregard for truth and fairness so long exhibited by Mr. Holden, as an Editor, would justify us in never alluding to him or his paper; yet the influence he still retains among a certain class of persons makes it necessary, that we should notice him occasionally. His leader in to-day's Standard is characteristic, and embodies more falsehood and less truth, than is usual for that feculent journal.

Its whole tone indicates the deepest anxiety in regard to the colored vote, and betrays an unusual concern lest, after all, the blacks will follow the respectable whites, and wholly discard the Holdenites.

The following canard, extracted from his leader of to-day, of which there are several in the same article, indicates his uneasiness:

"Only a few days since, Brother Pell sent a thoughtless, hair-brained young rebel to a leading colored man of this City, with the promise of a seat in the Convention if he would take ground against Holden. The young man, who had been instructed by Brother Pell, told the colored man that "Holden was about to deceive the colored people." Our colored friend did not entertain the offer, and the young man retired with several fleas in his ear. Brother Pell had, himself, previously tried another leading colored man in the same way, and failed."

There is not a word of truth in the above. We challenge Mr. Holden to the proof and defy him. It is manufactured from the whole cloth. We have in no instance, either personally or through others, voluntarily sought to control or direct the sentiment of the colored people, otherwise than through the columns of the Sentinel. Several have called on us to ask our advice. We have readily and frankly advised them according to our best judgment. Our advice has been: "Be careful not to be misled by designing men. Avoid political wrangling and partyism. The results of the war have made you freemen, and the action of Congress has enfranchised you. It is the law of the land. Do not act hastily—commit yourself to no one, but wait and watch. When you are called on to vote for delegates to the Convention, be sure to select men you know to be good and true. You know the people—you know whom to trust." This is about the substance of all our advice to them.—We have found it unnecessary to give them any special counsel in regard to Mr. Holden or the Holdenites. They have been generally very well posted on that point.

As to making propositions to any colored man about being a candidate for the Convention, either directly or indirectly, it is all false. Mr. Holden measures us purely by himself—a parrallel which we regard as an insult. We have heard but one colored man's name mentioned in this County, in connection with the Convention. That was Jas. H. Harris. Numbers of our friends have remarked, in our presence, that, as between Mr. Holden or any of his followers and James H. Harris for the Convention, they would unquestionably vote for Mr. Harris. In this sentiment we have concurred.

Seaton Gales, Esq., of this city, has been invited by the Trustees of the Holston Conference Female College, at Asheville, to deliver an address before the young ladies of that institution, on the 8th prox.—Sentinel.

It is to be hoped that Seaton will not make any allusion to the "Holdenites" in his address.—Standard.

If he should deliver the address, he would endeavor not to insult such an audience by the intrusion of offensive and indecent topics.

Gov. Helm, in a recent powerful speech, at Louisville, Kentucky, thus "hits the nail on the head:"

"I tell you that the Northern States are refusing to let the negro vote on their side of the river. They wish to compel him to remove to the Southern States, where he will be allowed suffrage. This action is based on the idea that the negro will naturally go where he has most privileges, and especially to that climate best suits him. They wish therefore to ship the negro upon you, because you dare not control him without running the risk of the interference of Federal power."

Spring fashion—long "change" in gentleman's pants than last year.

FARMING OPERATIONS.

The favorable omens of a good farming season have put the farmers to work with a hearty good will. The ill-wind, which has so long blown over us, in politicsl affairs, has for the nonce discouraged our people, yet a few days of bright sunshine dissipates their melancholy, and with cheerful faces they take up "the shovel and the hoe," to provide for the inner man.

Necessity is upon us. Work, field work, is absolutely necessary for our wants, but it serves more than one purpose. The payment of debts, provision for our families, and the means of recuperation, demand it, yet the moral and social interests of society find no greater help than from the steady, invigorating and quiet labors of the field.

In this section, we are glad to say, every effort will be made for the production of a good crop of cotton and corn. We are really glad to find that some of our town men have waked up from the languor and ennui of city life, and are pushing the plough vigorously. Cotton, however, forms the chief article of production, and we are glad to believe that the indications are decidedly promising for a good crop. To all, then, we say, "speed the plough."

Southern vs. Northern Radicalism.—A gentleman from the North, himself a Republican, and quite a prominent member of that party, remarked to us, some days since, that, in his opinion, Southern Radicalism far outstripped Northern. In other words, he declared that the so called Southern Loyalists were entirely too Radical for him and those with whom he acted. We are glad to see daily evidences that the character of these men is becoming better and more properly appreciated at the North. Their vindictiveness and malice have disgusted the large majority of those whom it was their desire to propitiate. They see through their purposes and motives,—they recognize the estimation in which they are held by their own fellow-citizens,—they now know the record of their leaders,—and they are amazed, even with all their bitterness, at the horible and disgusting depravity of men who are seeking the injury and ruin, the political degradation and confiscation of property, of those who were not half so guilty as themselves of the crime of involving the country in war.

Genuine, consistent, bona fide Union men, here at home, hold these impudently self-styled "Southern Loyalists" in similar disesteem. They refuse all affiliation with them, and spurn them as unclean.

If these malevolent demagogues fail, in their last and desperate effort, of getting the colored people to unite with them, or show any respect for them, they will be of all individuals the most forlorn, rejected and despised.

Holden says that the President has "encouraged the spirit of rebellion" by pardoning Gov. Vance. How is it with Mr. Stevens, the Standard's demigod, Mr. Sherman, and others, who recommended the pardon?

Early in the war, when all were more or less green in the war business "an officer of the day" reported to General Rosecranz that he had arrested an officer for some irregularity.

"What did you do with him?"

"Put him in the guard-house."

"But that is contrary to the regulations; you can't put a commissioned officer in the guard house!" said Rosecranz, excitedly.

"I don't care what the regulations say, he's there anyhow!" was the conclusive reply.—Norfolk Republican (Radical).

That is just where the Radicals are now. When the southern people tell them that they can't suspend the writ of habeas corpus, nor establish martial law, nor abolish the State governments, nor try a citizen without a jury, they reply, "We don't care what the Constitution says; we've done it anyhow."—Richmond Dispatch.

Another Soldier Brought Home.—The remains of Tandy J. White, of Co. F. 6th Regiment N. C. T., who died at Strausburg Va., in 1867, arrived at Winston on last Thursday, and was buried by the Masonic fraternity in the Cemetery on Friday last.—A large concourse assembled at the M. E. Church to attend the funeral services, after which the procession moved to the Cemetery, where the last funeral rites were performed by the fraternity of which he had long been an honored member.—Winston Sentinel.

The Meeting in Winston.—Quite a number of persons met in the Court House on Saturday, to attend a meeting given out by the Radicals. Mr. John Blackburn was called on to preside, and speeches were made by Sheriff Mastin, Dr. Johnson, D. H. Starbuck and Lewis Hege (colored) and another freedman whose name we did not learn. The speeches were of a very inflammatory character, and calculated to array the passions of the people of different political sentiment against each other. Gen. Lee, we understand was denounced as a "scoundrel and a traitor."—Winston Sentinel.

At a meeting of the prominent citizens of Charleston, S. C., on the 2d instant, it was unanimously agreed that the freedmen should be entitled to run some of their own color on the white man's ticket to the convention and State Legislature. The meeting was composed, in a large proportion, of old Democrats and secessionists, and General Hampton sent a letter to it urging the policy of giving the negroes representation.

Cotton.—We observe quite a falling off in the receipts of cotton via the canals, and learn that the greater portion of the last crop from eastern North Carolina has been sent in. Taking all things into consideration, the crop from this section during the past season may be considered as a fine one; but it will not compare with the crop of next season, if we are to judge from the preparations now being made.—Norfolk Day Book.

Hon. John Bell.—This distinguished gentleman has many friends throughout the South who would be pleased to hear of his whereabouts and of his health. The Nashville Dispatch, of the 28 ult., says that the old Roman is now residing in Stewart county, Tenn., and that his health has improved and he is enjoying the correspondence of friends.

Shooting Affair.—On Saturday, a mulatto girl named Annie Gardner was shot in the streets of Savannah, and instantly killed, by a negro man named Alexander Hardee. The couple were seen standing together in the street quarrelling, and shortly thereafter the girl was found lying on the pavement, a small bullet hole in the left breast marking the course of the messenger of death.

From the Nashville Union, April 7.

CONSERVATIVE COLORED CONVENTION IN NASHVILLE—ATTEMPT TO BREAK UP THE MEETING IN A ROW BY RADICAL FREEDMEN.

The Convention which was called by the colored citizens to meet yesterday, met at the Court House at one P. M. A large crowd of colored men and white men assembled at the appointed hour. There was an intention on the part of many of the colored men to break up the Convention by introducing into it radicals who pretended to be conservative. Brownlow's militia were there, and instead of being the conservators of the peace, by their acts encouraged a spirit of lawlessness and intolerance.

After much confusion Joseph Williams took the chair and made a speech, reviewing the questions at issue, and delivered a scathing rebuke to those who attempted to suppress the freedom of speech. He said if free speech could not be tolerated, then we are in a worse bondage than when in our former slavery.

After Williams had concluded his remarks, Mr. Washington, a colored man, came forward and said:—We, as colored men, must look at our interest. We are slightly demoralized. We had no chance to get a fair representation of the Southern side of the question. The Radicals have usurped everything and tried to become our special guardians. It is laid to Uncle Sam that he liberated us. This is not true. It was not their intention to free us at all. It was a case of necessity in order to suppress the rebellion. Our true friends are those who raised us; they have stood by us all our lives, and we should encourage them by standing by them. Some of the radical colored men have come here with a Brownlow pill in one ear and radical whiskey in the other. They do not look at the question fairly. Let others do as they may, but as for me my hopes and sympathies are with those who wore the gray. They are our friends—We can trust them.

Rev. Mr. Watkins being loudly called for, came forward and made a calm, practical speech. He said he had read thoroughly the Constitution of the United States, and it declared all "men born free and equal," and that the object of the confederation was to form a more perfect union, establish justice and insure tranquility. That constitution was good enough, but was never carried out practically. All men in this country were not free and equal. The radicals have given us the right to vote, but they have in the sixteenth section of the franchise act denied us the right to sit on juries or to hold office. This is robbing us of the right guaranteed to us as freemen. His definitions of conservatives and radicals, taken from Worcester's dictionary, were not well defined in their relation to the two political parties now in existence. Who gave you your freedom? said he, in a low tone. Did Lincoln and his army do it? No, it was God who struck the shackles from your limbs. He closed by saying he was compelled to go to Franklin to preach that evening, and was prepared at some more leisure time to address them on all the questions involved in the coming canvass.

The following resolutions were then read by the chairman and adopted, and a number of colored gentlemen were appointed as delegates to the State Convention to meet on the 16th in this city:

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, Under the laws of Tennessee the colored man is invested with the right of suffrage and it therefore becomes his duty to justify his entranchisement by a prudent, thoughtful and patriotic exercise of that great and inestimable privilege; and whereas, our conservative white fellow-citizens have invited us to appoint delegates to the State Convention to assemble in Nashville on the 16th instant, and participate with them in nominating a candidate for Governor, thus showing their disposition and desire to secure our rights and promote harmony between the two races. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we cordially accept the invitation, and will faithfully labor to make the political unity thus inaugurated redound to the good of the State and the whole Union.

Resolved, That we do not desire to be an element of discord in the community in which we live; that to seek to unite the colored race against the white, or the poor against the rich, would only bring trouble; that we believe the common good of both depends upon the spirit of harmony and justice of all towards each other.

Resolved, That, believing the spirit and tendencies of radicalism unfavorable to these aims, we take our stand with the true Union Conservatives of Tennessee and invite our race throughout the State to do the same.

Resolved, That our right to vote involves the right to hold office, and that its denial is unjust; and that our interests and rights as free men require also that we should have the right to sit upon juries.

Resolved, That while thankful to overruling Providence that slavery is removed from the land, we have no ground to fear that any attempt will ever be made to re-establish it.

While the resolutions were being read, the radical negroes, who had been out in the courtyard, came in and came near breaking up the Convention in a row. It was very evident that they were intent on mischief, and were instigated by white men, who had not the courage to act out the promptings of their own malicious hearts.

Will There be War in Europe?—Will Napoleon go to war? He is now fifty-nine years of age; with a constitution somewhat impaired; with several failures reckoned against him by the French people; with a "World's Fair" on his hands, the expenses of which he has cunningly and meanly settled upon the different governments whose people take part in it; with an heir to his throne, growing up but not yet of age, to take part in affairs; with a growing suspicion among the French people that their master is a bit of a blunderer; with a man before him, Count Bismarck, of great ideas, more powerful will and real courage, as the head of a united and victorious Germany.

This is Napoleon's position in brief. He has himself given some hostages for peace—but aside from those he can scarcely afford to go to war in Europe. To make war on Prussia is to venture on what, if he is defeated, would ruin him; it would be a war in which he must ruin his adversary or be ruined himself. We do not think Napoleon's position yet so desperate that he is likely to dare and risk so much. It is true that his curses are now a days coming home to roost; his plans, so long maturing, have one after the other failed; he has lost the reputation he once had for strength and successful cunning; his temper is doubtless somewhat affected by his failures. But he is yet firm on the throne he stole, and unless he has become blind at last, it is hardly possible that he would venture on the great game of a general European war.—New York Evening Post.

At the Paris exposition it is said that a novelty will be on exhibition in the shape of an artificial horse. The ingeniously constructed animal, when ready, will travel twenty-five miles without stopping, and afterwards may be wound up in a few moments so as to go much farther, and so on indefinitely.

LADIES' SOUTHERN RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

The movement in this city for collecting funds for the relief of the starving poor of the Southern States is now meeting with a success worthy of the reputation of Brooklyn for Christian benevolence. This success has been mainly due to the labors of the noble ladies of the Brooklyn Southern Relief Association, who have been untiring in their efforts to arouse public sympathy.

The fullest publicity has been given to all the details of this movement from time to time, but as there are many persons whose interest has been somewhat tardily awakened, who may desire further information in regard to its objects, its means of aiding the starving women and children of the South, and as to the trustworthiness of the persons who are entrusted with the distribution of the funds collected, we now present all the information we have in regard to the business, which we think should be sufficient to satisfy every one that the money contributed will be honestly applied. First we give the prospectus of

THE LADIES' BROOKLYN AUXILIARY SOUTHERN RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

We, the undersigned, have formed ourselves into an Association for the purpose of co-operating with the Ladies' Southern Relief Association, of New York, in their noble efforts to alleviate the starving and destitute condition of the women and children in the South. Feeling and knowing that their sufferings are intense, and the call for aid is now most urgent, we beg that all the citizens of this populous and prosperous city join us in extending the hand of true Christian charity to these, our fellow-beings, in affliction. We labor together, heart and hand, in this great work of humanity, without regard to party or sect. Contributions of money, food and clothing are earnestly solicited. Donations in money may be sent to Mrs. James H. Wheatley, No. 128 Remsen street; contributions of food and clothing, in heavy packages, to the care of Messrs. Wheatley, Williams & Co., No. 40 Water street, Brooklyn; small packages may be sent to Mrs. George F. Power, No. 50 Clinton street.

All the donations will be distributed in the South, through the different channels selected by the Ladies' Association of New York.

President—Mrs. Hosea Webster, No. 90 Pierpont street.

Vice President—Mrs. Isaac R. St. John, 119 Clinton street.

Secretary—Mrs. David M. Stone, No. 341 Pearl street.

Treasurer—Mrs. James H. Wheatley, No. 128 Remsen street.

The Handwriting on the Wall.—A Panic in the Radical Party.—There are two remarkable articles, one from the Providence Journal, Senator Anthony's organ, and another from the Springfield, Massachusetts, Republican, a Radical journal of acknowledged influence in New England. The "lesson of Connecticut," as the Tribune calls it, has been thoroughly learned and understood by at least two Radical papers, and the Philadelphia North American also thinks that the Radical majority in Congress "has been pushing along the car of national progress a little too fast for some sections of the party."

The Providence Journal states the case more nearly, when it declares that the party "cannot endure everything which ambitious and extreme men may undertake to accomplish in its name;" that the schemes now fostered by the Radical leaders "are mischievous enough to ruin any party;" that if impeachment is successful, "it is enough to see that the Republican party is ruined;" that forcing suffrage upon the States is "beyond the power of Congress and will be exceedingly injurious to the continuance of the party's power." The Springfield Republican, of the same date, talks in the same strain. These journals see that their leaders will ruin the party. They see the defeat of Radicalism in one of its strongholds—Connecticut. The handwriting on the wall produces a panic in the party. The cry of the leading Radical journals of New England now is, that the party "has gone too far."—N. Y. World.

Pll Leave it to the Crowd.—A few days ago, says the San Francisco Call of February 20, a well known attorney of this city was arguing a case before one of the district judges, when he advanced a proposition of law which was immediately ruled irrevelant. After his honor had expressed his opinion, the attorney exclaimed, "Notwithstanding your honor is opposed to me, I believe I am right, and I'll leave it to the crowd if I am not." The court boiled over, and the attorney smoothed matters by apologising.

Error in Diagnosis.—The physicians in Washington are not, we fear, as well skilled in their profession as they should be, or they would never have authorized the report that Thad Stevens was dangerously ill from an affection of the heart. It has long been an admitted fact that he possesses no such organ. We will wager a buckshot, that he is only suffering from an overflow of gall. The idea that he has a heart is simply ridiculous.—Lynchburg News.

There is a lady in New York who, when she is unable to attend church, sends her card.

NOTICE.
I will attend at the Court House, in Raleigh, on Monday, 22nd. day of April, 1867, for the purpose of taking the Tax List of Raleigh Districts No. 1 and 2, for State and County purposes. Merchants must list their purchases, (or sales as the case may be,) from July 1st. 1866, to April 1st. 1867.—Corporations, in general, list their property like individuals; shares held by individuals in such corporations are not liable to taxation; but shares in Railroads, Plank roads, Canal and Navigation Companies, must be listed by the owners thereof in the County where they reside.
I give this notice, so that Merchants and Liquor dealers, and others, may prepare their statements before coming to list.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Grateful for the flattering patronage with which we have heretofore been so kindly favored, we respectfully solicit an increased share of the patronage of the citizens of Raleigh and the surrounding country. Without specially gassing, we deem it sufficient to say, that our stock mostly embraces such articles as are usually found in Family Groceries. Most of our goods have been recently bought in New York and Baltimore, for cash, and we hope to be able to sell them on satisfactory terms. In addition to our stock of Groceries, &c., we have a fine lot of

HATS AND READY MADE CLOTHING

and a splendid lot of Confectioneries, consisting of

PLAIN AND FANCY CANDIES, RAISINS, ORANGES, FIGS, NUTS AND BRANDY PEACHES, &c., all of which will be sold on reasonable terms.

We have also a fine lot of genuine Durham Smoking Tobacco, which we can implicitly recommend to "those who smoke." Please call and see us.
We will pay particular attention to all consignments of Produce and Merchandise entrusted to our care and will endeavor to sell at the best market prices. Consignments are respectfully solicited. By a prompt and close attention to business and fair dealing with all, we hope to merit and receive a share of public patronage.

NOTICE.

OFFICE SEABOARD & ROANOKE R. R. CO., PORTSMOUTH, VA., March 22d. 1867.
IT has been understood by the officers in charge of transportation via the Seaboard Inland Freight Route, that letters addressed to the Railroad Agent at Portsmouth, on the subject of freights, are unanswered, and that in consequence, causes of delay are not explained, and claims for losses and damage unsettled, and as the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company, who are the forwarding agents for the line, are satisfied that these causes of complaint are not due to their Agents, but to the inaccuracy of the mails, in order to test this subject, the Manager of the Seaboard Road requests that whenever persons have written to the undersigned Agent of the Seaboard Road, and after waiting a reasonable time for a reply, have not received it, that they will address him a letter enclosing a duplicate of the letter they had previously addressed to the agent. If this is complied with, and the Manager of the Seaboard Road receives the letter, he gives assurance that it shall be promptly investigated and replied to.

This Air-Line Freight Route

claims to be the most expeditious and direct route, and avoiding to a great extent Marine Insurance, also the cheapest freight route between the Northern Cities and North and South Carolina.

As Freights consigned by the Company's connecting Steamers is forwarded from Portsmouth within twenty-four hours after being landed, there is no reason for delays, and although freights may sometimes be missent, it will in such cases be promptly traced, and if not found will be paid for. The Companies forming this line cannot be responsible for the rapid transportation of freights or charges upon it, unless sent

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Jenkins and Perry, Family Grocers, Fayetteville Street, call attention to their large and choice stock. This firm is a new and enterprising one. We hope that it will receive the encouragement which it deserves.

Willard Bros., Wilmington, announce a new importation of new crop Molasses.—Our up-country dealers will please take notice.

J. D. Pullen, List Taker, will attend at the Court House, on the 22nd. inst., for the purpose of taking the tax lists for Raleigh Districts, Nos. 1 and 2.

B. P. Williamson & Co. advertise Baugh's Raw Bone Phosphate.

Edward Wood, of Edenton, announces that he has made arrangements with Messrs. C. W. Grandy & Sons, of Norfolk, for the sale of his celebrated Family Roe and Cut Herrings and Family Shad.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Jane Ferrell, colored, was arrested, last evening, for disorderly conduct, and fined $2. Failing to pay the fine, she was kept in limbo for twenty-four hours.

With this exception, "all was quiet along the lines."

WHO WOULDN'T BE AN EDITOR?—Just about seasonable lunch time, this morning, appeared in our sanctum a well filled waiter from our friend, W. Robert Andrews, Family Grocer, Fayetteville Street. Its luscious contents make us forget politics for a while; and as we feasted on the nicely-flavored pickled oysters, and other delicacies, we felt "malice towards none and charity to all." Andrews knows how to "do the thing up brown," and has in his store the wherewithal to go about it.

THIS DAY, two years ago, Raleigh was occupied by the Federal forces.

DR. JOSEPH B. HINTON, lately a venerable citizen of Raleigh, died in Washington, on the 8th, inst., at the residence of his son-in-law, Isaiah Respass, Esq.

LADIES' SOUTHERN RELIEF ASSOCIATION.—We publish, in another column, from the Brooklyn Eagle, a statement showing the organization of this charitable and benevolent Association in that city. The Card from Dr. Skinner, which appeared in our columns, a few days since, exhibited the amount of relief that has been extended in this particular section, while the good that has been effected in the aggregate, throughout the South, through the agency of this and similar Societies, is much greater, probably, than most persons imagine. Such practical evidences of Christian sympathy do much to knit together, in the bonds of amity and kindness, the two sections of the country. These ladies can enjoy the consciousness of having not only ministered to the necessities of the suffering, and thereby fulfilled the Divine injunction, but of having attributed, in a higher degree than all the politicians combined, to the restoration of international friendship and good will.

A COLORED COMMISSIONER IN PLYMOUTH.—A correspondent of the Norfolk Journal writing from Plymouth, Washington County, under a recent date, has the following:

"There was an election for town officers here, on Saturday. The negroes had found out that they would be allowed to vote, and it being Saturday, which to them is a weekly holiday, they came into town from five miles round the the country, to take advantage of the occasion. Some buffalo had put the name of a negro, named Theophilus Ash, on his own ticket, as an electioneering dodge, to secure the negro vote for himself, and Ash was thus elected a member of the town Commissioners of Plymouth, in the county of Washington, and State of North Carolina. Ash is a negro of very good sense, and is tickled amazingly at his election. It is is a matter of general remark among the citizens, that Ash is really the best of the four white Buffaloes or others who were elected with him. Ash says he" is a gwine to stop de niggers from totin guns an pistils troo de streets; dey are too careless how dey shoot dem off, and dey might happen, 'cidentlly, to kill a nigger instead of a white man."

ARMY CHANGES.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald announces the following Army changes:

"Brevet Lieut. Col. J. D. Stubbs, Assistant Quartermaster United States Volunteers, has been relieved from the duties of Chief Quartermaster and disbursing officer of the military command of North Carolina, and Brevet Major General R. O. Tyler has been assigned to duty in his place. Colonel Stubbs has been assigned to duty as Post and Department Quartermaster at Charleston, S. C.

Brevet Captain James Chester, Third Artillery, has been relieved as Acting Assistant Inspector General of the military command of North Carolina, and ordered to report for duty, with his company, at Hilton Head, S. C."

MEDICAL BOARD.—A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal calls attention to the fact, that no practitioner of medicine or surgery in North Carolina can collect his bills by law, unless he has a license to practice from the State Medical Board, provided he has commenced the practice in the State since April, 1859. This law applies to all who have commenced the practice since that time in this State.

The following medical gentlemen now constitute the Board, and were elected by ballot at the meeting, in June last, of the State Medical Society, viz:

Dr. E. Burke Haywood, Raleigh.
" S. S. Satchwell, New Hanover co.
" N. J. Pittman, Edgecombe co.
" R. B. Haywood, Raleigh.
" J. J. Summerell, Salisbury.
" R. H. Winborne, Chowan co.
" M. Whitehead, Salisbury.

The Board are required to meet alternately in Raleigh and Morganton, on the first Monday in May of each year, and to remain in session from day to day for ten days, in order to examine applicants who may present themselves for examination. But to prevent delay and inconvenience, two members of the Board may grant a temporary license to practice, to remain in force till the next regular meeting of the Board, for confirmation or rejection as the Board may determine.

THE SPECIAL RELIEF FUND.

Major General O. O. Howard publishes the following instructions in circular No. 11, from the Freedmen's Bureau, relative to the disbursement of the special relief fund appropriated by joint resolution of Congress for the relief of the destitute in Southern and Southwestern States:

Five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of the unexpended moneys appropriated to supply freedmen and refugees with provisions or rations are hereby set apart, in accordance with the above joint resolution, approved March 30, 1867, as a special fund for the relief of the destitute in the Southern and Southwestern States.

The special fund is designed to meet the immediate necessities of those who are in extreme want of food, and are not now supplied by the Freedmen's Bureau, nor by county or parish authorities.

The relief given by this fund will consist of one bushel of corn and eight pounds of meat per month, for each adult person, and one half the above amount of corn and meat for each child between one and fourteen years of age; and this issue of food will be discontinued as soon as early vegetables and fruits shall be grown.

Brevet Brigadier General E. Whittlesey, A. A. Inspector General, will assume the general charge and direction of the distribution of these supplies. He will be governed by the orders of the Commissioner from time to time, will keep a careful record of his proceedings, and make reports of the same to this office.

Assistant Commissioners of this bureau will at once enter upon the work of distribution of these supplies, and will use the utmost care that none but the very destitute receive them. They will direct the local agents in districts where by reason of the failure of the crops, or other causes, great destitution exists, to consult with civil officers and ascertain the number of persons destitute. They will make all necessary contracts for the transportation of supplies within their respective jurisdictions, and will establish depots at convenient places.

Each assistant commissioner will assign an efficient and faithful officer as acting commissary of subsistence, whose duty it shall be to receipt for the supplies furnished in bulk, and to distribute the same to local agents. And all local agents to whom any portion of such supplies are transferred shall give receipts and account for the same on the forms furnished; in the same manner as commissary stores are accounted for in the subsistence department.

All expenses incurred in purchasing, transporting, and issuing these supplies will be paid out of the special fund set apart for this purpose. A separate account will be kept of these expenses, and a full report made on the first day of each month of all expenditures and issues during the month previous.

Assistant commissioners will appoint additional local agents, whenever absolutely necessary, for the special purpose of issuing these supplies, to whom the oath of loyalty, prescribed by act of Congress, approved July 2, 1862, will be administered, and no one who cannot subscribe to the same shall receive such appointment.—Wash. Chronicle.

Saturday Morning Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 12, P. M.

The President's health is greatly improved.—He attended the Cabinet meeting to-day.

The Maryland returns show a majority of seven thousand in favor of a Convention.

After a very long debate, the Senate adopted a resolution to adjourn on Tuesday.

THE MISSISSIPPI AND GEORGIA COMPLAINTS IN THE SUPREME COURT—THE MATTER UNDER ADVISEMENT.

WASHINGTON, April 12, P. M.

In the Supreme Court, on the motion to file the Mississippi bill, the Chief Justice said:

A motion to file a bill was usually granted as a matter of course. But he suggested that if the bill contains matter which is scandalous, or unfit to become before the Court, the Court examines it or refers it to a Master. In this case, the Attorney General objects to the bill, as containing matter unfit to be brought before the Court, and that is the only point which can now be considered. Upon that point, the Court will first hear the Attorney General.

Mr. O'Connor announced himself, and also his associates, in attendance, should it be decided to argue both bills.

The Attorney General said that the Georgia bill lacked the point on which he proposed to oppose the filing of the Mississippi bill. The Mississippi bill was, in a legal sense, scandalous, as it proposed making the President a defendant before the Court.

Gov. Sharkey said that he had amended the bill, so as to proceed against the President as a citizen of Tennessee.

Mr. Stanbery read portions of the bill, claiming that it was manifestly against the President, as President. He alluded to a process somewhat similar, issued against Mr. Jefferson in the Burr trial. Mr. Jefferson did not obey or even notice the process. As an officer, he should advise the President to disregard the subpœna, and traced the result, should the Court persist and the President remain firm. The Court, to maintain its dignity, would have to imprison the President for contempt of Court. He maintained that, equally with the King of England, the President was exempt from proceedings of this kind. He could only be brought before the body of the Senate. After his impeachment, the Courts could punish him for acts committed while President. But he was beyond their jurisdiction, while occupying the Presidential chair.

He also maintained that the action was against the United States government, as much as though the government were named. He announced that he appeared there at the request of the President, for whom, when the bills passed over his veto, there was but one duty to faithfully carry out and execute these laws.

Hon. R. J. Walker followed, and the Court then took the matter under advisement.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, April 13,

The Supreme Court took the motion for leave to file the Georgia bill for consideration without argument.

Chief Justice Chase said that if the Court wished to hear the argument, he would notify the counsel.

There was an interesting argument in the Senate, yesterday, on adjournment. The point made was that a special session, called by the President, cannot legally adjourn without his consent. It would be dispersion. The difficulty lies in keeping a quorum together, without which the Senate can neither work or adjourn sine die. If a quorum is present on Tuesday, the session will probably be prolonged. If not, the chairman will adjourn the Senate under yesterday's action.

Several Radical Senators announced that were they the President, they would persist, like Mr. Johnson, in nominating friends and supporters. There is no sign of a compromise.

SPECIAL NOTICES

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. All communications sacredly confidential. Address in confidence, MADAME E. F. THORNTON, P. O. Box 223, Hudson, N. Y.

is now in full receipt of his Spring and Summer stock of

DRY GOODS,
READY-MADE CLOTHING,
BOOTS, SHOES, MILLINERY, AND FANCY GOODS,

They will be sold at a very small advance on

FIRST COST.

The Millinery business will be carried on by

MRS. GETTINGER,

in all its branches, she having been North herself and visited the first Millinery establishments in the country, laid in her own stock in person, and besides that, having a thorough knowledge of the business, will be enabled to suit one and all from the rich to the poor.

Opening day for Spring and Summer Bonnets will be on the 10th. day of April, to which all her lady friends are respectfully invited.

We are also introducing a new style HOOP-SKIRT called the

ODESSA PATENT COLLAPSING SKIRT,

a skirt far superior to anything that has ever been brought to this country. We ask an inspection of the same. You will not regret a walk to No. 18 Fayetteville Street.

A CARD.

BEAR IN MIND THE FOLLOWING FACTS:

1st. Our House is the oldest Dry Goods establishment in the city,—our Junior member having been in the business nearly 20 years.

2nd. We keep one of our firm constantly in the Northern markets.

3rd. He is well posted as to quality and price of goods.

4th. We buy for cash; and buy goods lower by doing so.

5th. We know the wants of our customers and our goods please them.

6th. Our motto is "quick sales and small profits."

7th. We do a live business—don't keep any dead stock on hand.

8th. It is a notorious fact that we buy the best quality of goods; and sell them at low prices.

9th. We attend strictly to our business.

10th. We sell goods for cash.

11th. If we make anything, it is spent in the improvement of our city.

12th. We dont keep any groceries.

Are not the above 12 good reasons why you should buy your Dry Goods of us?

We had hoped to have carried our beautiful Spring stock to our new Store, but owing to the bad weather, have been delayed. We will sell it out at our old stand.

We can truthfully say that a handsomer stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER DRY GOODS

has never been offered in this market.

GRAND CHARITABLE

PRESENTATION CONCERT,

IN AID OF THE Southern Orphan Association.

Incorporated by the Legislature of Virginia, January 30, 1867.

TO BE GIVEN AT THE

MARYLAND INSTITUTE

BALTIMORE,

APRIL 30th. 1867

THE PROFITS OF THIS CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN TO THE SOUTHERN ORPHANS' ASSOCIATION, TO THE SUBJOINED ADDRESS, FROM THE OFFICERS OF WHICH, WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC:

"We, the Officers of the Southern Orphans' Association, for the maintenance and education of the destitute orphans of deceased Southern soldiers and sailors, earnestly solicit the sympathy and co-operation in our

Grand Presentation Concert,

Of all who desire to see the

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

enabled to receive and care for all the needy ones who seek its shelter and protection.

Thanking our friends for their past contributions and assistance, we again appeal to them to help us in a more extensive enterprise. It is the design of this Association to erect a for the orphans of the South, both male and female, on an extensive scale, in the city of Richmond, Virginia. As an inducement to have the building located there, the Common Council of that city have guaranteed a sufficient lot of land, in an elevated and healthful location, and will increase the quantity of land if needed.

It is with a confident hope in a favorable response to this appeal to a public which has never yet failed to sustain a charitable institution, that we have entered into an arrangement with Messrs. L. T. Palmer & Co., No. 13 Holliday street, Baltimore, to organize a Grand Musical Presentation Concert for its benefit, and earnestly solicit the kindly aid and patronage of the public to ensure its success.

(Signed)
Mrs. J. L. HAMMOND, President.
Mrs. Dr. J. B. BEAN, Vice President.
Mrs. E. A. F. MEARS, Treasurer.
Mrs. Dr. A. G. KIMBERLY, Cor. Secretary.
Mr. J. H. SCHIERS, Recording Secretary.
Dr. A. G. KIMBERLY, Financial Secretary.
H. C. DALLAM, Esq., Counsellor.

BALTIMORE, Feb. —, 1867.

TRUSTEES.

Mrs. E. A. F. MEARS, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. J. H. SCHIERS, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. W. S. BOSTOCK, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. A. HAWKINS, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. Dr. A. G. KIMBERLY, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. CHAS. McCURDAN, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. Hon. JAS. LYONS, Richmond, Va.
Mrs. JAS. THOMAS, Richmond, Va.
Mrs. THOS. BRANCH, Richmond, Va.

It may seem unnecessary to add a single word to the above address, but calls upon the Institution have been so numerous and pressing, and the struggle through which it is now passing to widen the circle of its charities is of such an arduous nature, that the management cannot too strongly urge upon the

HUMANE AND PATHETIC

everywhere, an active participation in this additional attempt to alleviate the sad condition of great numbers of helpless children, rendered thus by the terrible war through which we have passed. And, assuredly, whatever may have been the relative political views of ladies and gentlemen heretofore, all must agree that the children referred to, could not, by any possibility, have had any agency in bringing about their present

DEPLORABLE AND DESTITUTE CONDITION, and are suitable objects for the charity of all persons of whatever shade of political opinion. The

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

which they now more particularly seek to establish and endow, will be of incalculable benefit by providing not only food and raiment for these helpless ones, but likewise solid and thorough education, thus qualifying them for Future Usefulness to Society at Large.

In order that this appeal may be effectual in enlisting the active interest and co-operation of all classes of persons everywhere, we have concluded to issue for the Grand Presentation Musical Concert,

500,000 tickets at the nominal price of $1 each—a single ticket entitling the purchaser to a gift—there being one gift to every ticket. The gifts are as follows:

1	An elegant Farm of 241 acres improved with extensive dwellings and outbuildings, saw and grist mill, making the property invaluable	$30,000 00

SATURDAY, APRIL 13, 1867.

SUNDAY READING.

"HOW SWEET IS THE SABBATH"

How sweet is the Sabbath to Rjisten my lot
There is joy in my heart, there is peace in my cot;
Its moments, how precious and sweetly they glide,
As I read and sing at my own fireside.

How sweet is the Sabbath, the laborers cry;
Rich gift unto man from his Maker on high;
'Tis the day we can gather, with children and wife,
Away from the world, its din and its strife.

How sweet is the Sabbath to all our kind,
Bringing rest for the body, and food for the mind;
It comes, like the sunshine, to scatter the gloom,
We may meet in our way 'twixt the cradle and tomb.

How sweet is the Sabbath to young and to old,
More precious by far than treasures of gold;
It comes, like the morn, with its sweet rays of light,
Dispersing the darkness and dullness of night.

How sweet is the Sabbath, the Christian will sing,
While his heart swells with joy to his Saviour and King;
Sweet foretaste on earth of the Sabbath above,
Where all will be peace and ineffable love.

How sweet is the Sabbath, we know by the past,
Then, oh! let us prize it, and hold it more fast:
And may this be our theme, 'till we join with the blest,
How sweet is the Sabbath—the Sabbath of rest!

ALL NIGHT IN PRAYER.

All night in prayer! The stars hung their silver lamps in the sombre sky, the clouds folded their dark curtains round the earth, the winds moaned and sighed, and the damp mountain dews distilled, while the slow hours went on—hour after hour, till midnight gave place to dawn, and the grey tintings in the East melted into the brilliance of Oriental sunrise: still knelt the Man of sorrows, pouring forth on the quiet night the voice of supplication to his Father. Weary and worn, with the day and its multiplied labors of love—still, when night came, bringing rest to others, our Saviour went alone to the mountain-top to pray.

We know not what we owe to those tireless nights of prayer. The world's Redeemer there made intercession for all coming generations. What vast trains of the children of men must have swept in review before the Saviour's eye! And as the shepherd knows and recognizes each little lamb in all the flock, so, our Shepherd, in those nights of watchfulness and prayer, knew and looked upon us, for whom he came to suffer and atone. For his chosen he sent upward the voice of intense, earnest prayer, asking mercy for the sleeping world at his feet, and for the unborn world that he saw with Divine vision.

Think of it, careless one! As you lay your head upon a prayerless pillow, remember that your Savior agonized all night in prayer. As you walk forth into the busy scenes of life, having sought no protection from an unseen Arm, pause and let memory go back to Him whose everlasting love once remembered you.

Think of it, sleepless one, tossing wearily on your restless pillow! Christ prayed when the world slept! If conscience, or care, or grief stand near you, with their phantom forms robbing you of repose, Pray! If pale sickness trail her poison dropping robes near you, withering with hot breath the rose on your cheek, pray, as Jesus often prayed, when head and heart were sick.

Christian let the thought fall on you, as the word "Peace" fell on angry, storm-tossed Gennesaret. Christian soldier, fighting against numerous foes for the promised crown, let it stimulate your zeal, and inspire you with strength, till you listen to the glad beat of the reveille, in the sunny morning, when you first tread your everlasting home. Christian teacher, mother, guide, remember the Master in his toils, and discouragements, and prayers, on the green mountain slopes of Judea, in the crowded streets of Jerusalem, in the rocking fishers' boats on breezy Galilee. Dying Christian, let it be your comfort, as you go through the dark valley, that Christ once bore you all night long upon his heart.—Norfolk Journal.

DYING WORDS OF WILBERFORCE.

"Come and sit near me; let me lean on you," said Wilberforce to a friend, a few minutes before his death. Afterwards, putting his arm around that friend, he said: "God bless you, my dear!" He became agitated somewhat, and then ceased speaking. Presently, however, he said: "I must leave you, my fond friend; we shall walk no further through this world together, but I hope we shall meet in heaven. Let us talk of heaven. Do not weep for me. I am very happy. Think of me, and let the thought make you press forward. I never knew happiness till I found Christ a Saviour. Read the Bible—Read the Bible! Let no religious book take its place. Through all my perplexities and distresses, I never read any other books, and I never felt the want of any other. It has been my hourly study; and all my knowledge of the doctrines, and all my acquaintance with the experiences and realities of religion have been drawn from the Bible only. I think religious people do not read the Bible enough. Books about religion may be useful enough, but they will not do instead of the simple truth of the Bible." He afterwards spoke of the regret of parting with his friends. "Nothing," said he, "convinces me more of the reality of the change within me, than the feelings with which I can contemplate a separation from my family. I now feel so much weaned from the world, my affections so much in heaven, that I can leave you all without regret. I do not love you less, but God more."

Such were the last words of one of the greatest and most gifted men the world has ever known. How strong his faith; with what a deep and trusting confidence he relies upon God. With what earnestness he turns to the Bible, as the only fountain whence true and sufficient comfort can be drawn in that dark hour.—Bible Society Record.

"AND THEN."—Many years ago there was a good man who lived at one of the Italian universities. One day a young man ran up to him with a face beaming with joy and said that his greatest wish was now fulfilled, his parents having just given him permission to study law. "So now I am come," he added, "to the law school of this University on account of its great fame; and I mean to spare no pains to get through my studies as well and quickly as possible."—In this way he went on talking for a long time. When at last he came to a stop, the good man who had been listening to him with great patience, said, "Well, and when you have got through your course of studies, what do you mean to do then?"

"Then I shall take my Doctor's degree," said the young man.

"And then?" asked St. Filippo Neri again.

"And then," continued the youth, "I shall have a number of difficult cases to manage; and I shall catch people's notice by my eloquence, my zeal, my learning, my acuteness, and gain a great reputation."

"And then?" repeated the holy man.

"And then," replied the youth; "why there cannot be a question, I shall be promoted to some high office or other; besides, I shall make money and grow rich."

"And then?" repeated St. Filippo.

"And then," added the young lawyer, "then I shall live comfortably and honorably in health and dignity, and shall be able to look forward for a happy old age."

Oh! was not all this to look at things seen."

But the holy man had not done. Again he asked, "And then?"

"And then," said the youth, with a faltering voice,—"and then—and then—then I shall die."

Here St. Filippo lifted up his voice and solemnly said, "And then?"

This last "and then?" was brought home by God's Spirit to the young man's heart.—From that time he ceased to look at things seen. He began to feel the power of things unseen.—Ex.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish, or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and try offenders; or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution, for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, House of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district named in the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any state, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1867, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such state by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

The Fall Session of this Institution closed 23rd. day of December. The Spring Session opened the 1st. Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantage for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First-class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required.—In the single item of dress parents can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages.—This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States.—Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.
